

Who should be the leader in international trade?

AMERICA or CHINA?

Conservatives know failing to pass TPA will give China the leadership role in world trade.

Keeping America's Leadership Role

American workers and businesses are the best in the world. Passing Trade Promotion Authority (TPA) allows our workers to compete and lead the way in the global economy, instead of our competitors.

That's why conservative champions like Paul Ryan support passing TPA so America continues to be the leader in international trade.

Congressman Lynn Westmoreland puts American workers first. So does TPA.

- Keeps America in the leadership role of international trade
- Protects millions of American jobs
- Holds President Obama accountable. Congress must approve any deal the president makes
